As one car dealer openly admits in a recent article:
"frankly, we were getting away with murder. We weren't treating customers fairly and were, in effect, charging them to earn us money."

SortMyCash

The Car Finance Scandal

Hidden / Secret Commission

The FCA estimate that 95% of finance models have commission within. If you were not made aware of this then the commission is secret and therefore mis-sold.

Manipulating Interest Rates

Within 42% of finance models it was found that dealers could increase your interest rate, for no other reason than to charge more and get them a higher commission.

How Much Can I Recover Back

We anticipate that the average claim per vehicle is likely to be almost £6,000. This includes the commission that has been paid, the interest paid and any other fees paid.

How Far Can I Go Back

We are taking claims from as far back as April 2008. So if you have bought any vehicle between then and 2020, we will look to make a claim on your behalf.

No Win, No Fee Claim

The service is strictly No Win, No Fee and unlike many competitors, the costs when you win the claim aren't exorbitant. For successful claims the fee is 30% + VAT.

Multiple Vehicles & Paperwork

If you have purchased multiple vehicles on PCP, HP or a Car Loan since 2008 we will be able to claim for all of them. We can also help with lost paperwork / details.

Why Use An Expert

You are free to pursue a claim yourself and can do so. However, we recommend using an expert as this is such a new area unlike PPI, which had been set fully in law.

Industrial Scale Rip Off

SortMyCash are here to help and protect consumers. The FCA have recently uncovered a scandal that stretches back well over a decade where car buyers both new and old have been ripped off when purchasing with PCP (Personal Contract Purchase), HP (Hire Purchase) or with a dealer arranged loan. Up to 95% of these financing have commission within and if you weren't told about this commission and how much commission they were making then this has been mis-sold. The FCA investigation found that an estimated 560,000 were paying over 50% more on car finance than they should have been. This rip off has been for new and used cars, vans, caravans and any other financed vehicles.

Bribe and Special Form of Fraud

On two Court of Appeal mortgage cases in similar circumstances of hidden commission, the Court determined that when commission is hidden from the buyer by the broker this should be treated as a type of bribe and in-turn a special form of fraud. With this, the Court found that the buyer could choose the remedy of putting the contract into rescission. Essentially this means that each party will be put into the position that they were before the contract was made. So whilst the actual loan will still need to be repaid and the vehicle will still be yours (even if you are still paying it back), any fees and interest payments will be recoverable. You can then claim your own interest on those. Our calculations estimate that this is around £6,000 on average per vehicle, with some much higher for the higher value vehicles or those paying the highest interest rates.

Can't Remember Your Details?

Don't worry if you don't have your paperwork. All you need to do is ask the lender to send you an electronic copy of the finance agreement and statement of account, which they should be able to do almost instantly. Simply call them on their number below. If you can't remember who the lender was, check your bank statements or call the dealer.
